

2022 Rental Property Checklist/Questionnaire

Name _____

Similarly to last year, the ATO have their sights on rental properties, holiday homes and principal places of residences that may have been rented out short term on platforms such as Airbnb and Stayz. They have commenced 2 data-matching programs to collect property management data and rental bond data, ensuring that various income tax reporting obligations have been met.

The information that the ATO will obtain include address, date property first available for rent, period of lease, commencement and expiration of lease, amount of rental bond held, number of weeks the rental bond is for, amount of rent payable for each period, period of rental payments (ie weekly, fortnightly, or monthly), type of dwelling, number of bedrooms, rental income category, rental income amount, rental expense category, rental expense amount, and net rent amount.

We have listed below other areas the ATO will be shining a spotlight in 2022 and we will ensure that we have you covered here in the additional questions or information that we may ask you this year:

- Reviewing loan drawdowns to ensure they are for tax deductible purposes
- Spreading the cost of capital works and initial property repairs over a number of years
- Ensuring repairs or maintenance are correctly categorised and claimed
- Failure to apportion expenses where the property was used personally or let for free or at a reduced rent to family and friends
- Failure to include all rental income, especially from sharing economy platforms such as Airbnb (this is another data matching program the ATO are running)

To ensure that we can complete your tax return efficiently and accurately and to maximise your claims whilst not attracting unnecessary ATO attention, please take the time to review the following checklist/questionnaire for your rental property, complete it and provide it to us with all supporting documentation.
